IRAMNUER WISTA

Rainier Vista 1977

Official Publication of the Associated Students of

Auburn Adventist Academy

A campus, buildings, facilities.

This is Auburn Adventist Academy. But . . .

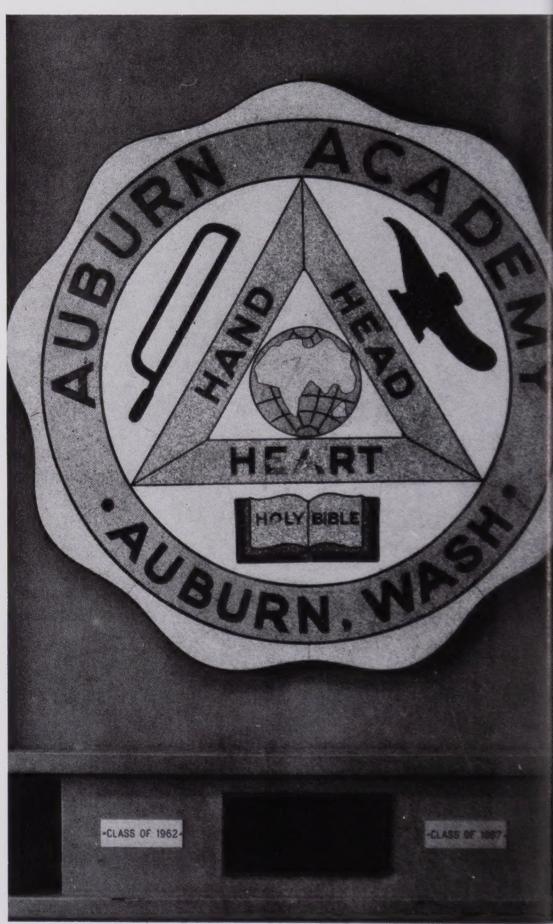

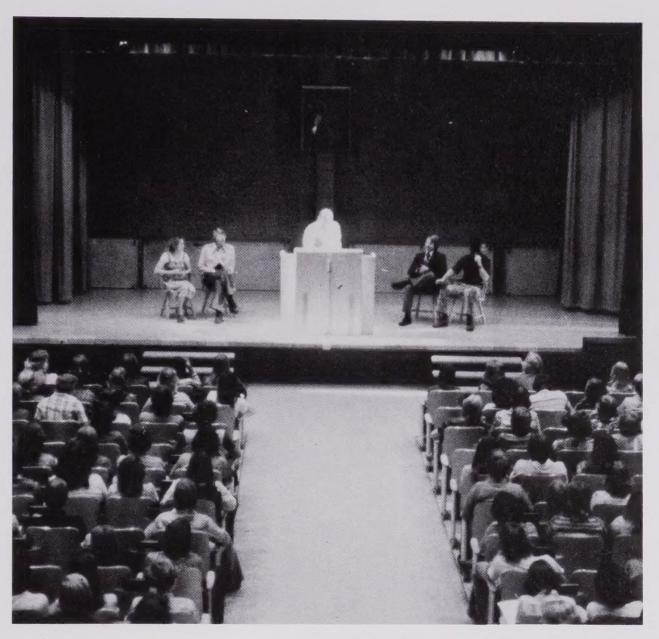

. . . beyond classrooms and empty hallways, Auburn Adventist Academy is people, people with a common purpose, studious people, busy people, and not-so-busy people,

creative people, serious people,

puzzled people, happy people,

unique people, clowns,

entertainers, spectators, patriots, friends.

Mark Robison, Gina Lindsey and Melinda Jose appeared in the communication department's spring quarter play, The Glass Menagerie.

Colleen Bock and Keith Canwell were two of WWC's 1976 graduating class.

Kerry Reuer, editor of the school yearbook, the Mountain Ash, and Tami Russell, editor of the weekly Collegian, visit with Dr. N. Clifford Sorensen, president of Walla Walla College.

Come!

The faculty, staff and students of WALLA WALLA COLLEGE cordially invite you to join them for a rewarding school year that could change your life, September 1977 to June 1978.

You are invited to make new friends from among 2000 students from many states
and countries,
to choose from 54 majors
and ten two-year programs, to fellowship with Christian students and educators, and to enjoy
lyceums, programs, concerts clubs, dinners, worships and sports.

In short, you are invited to develop and be all that you can at Walla Walla College.

Health careers are expanding with Portland Adventist Medical Center

Employment in the health field is expected to grow very rapidly.

And students preparing for medical careers can look forward to the brightest of employment prospects. Good pay, good working conditions, and—most important—excellent opportunities to serve where it counts.

This is the projection made by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics in its latest Occupational Outlook report. A wide range of openings is seen through the mid-1980's.

Because of the need to staff the new Adventist Medical Center as well as healthcare facilities at the Mt. Tabor site, the opportunities for employment in this field can be expected to remain as high as they have ever been in the Portland area for some time.

The hospital is always looking for graduates who not only are technically proficient but also are in harmony with the Church's medical ministry objectives.

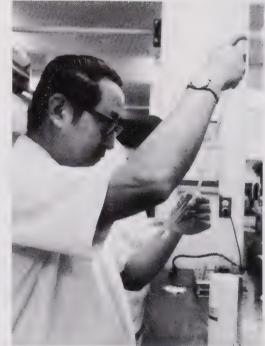

Some of the distinct advantages in practicing one's chosen profession at Portland Adventist Hospital include association with Christian people who also are committed people, performing one of the Church's most important services—its "right arm" ministry, and meeting the physical needs of people by extending healing to the whole man—including the spiritual. In short, a highly privileged opportunity.

Here are a few of the many opportunities being extended to young specialists, both men and women.

Physicians—needs will continue to exist in every specialty, particularly in family medicine.

Dentists—opportunities are numerous.

New Adventist Medical Center (above) at 10123 S.E. Market in Portland is expected to keep the demand for health skills high.

Nurses—the demand for Christian nurses is always strong.

Technicians—dental hygienists, medical laboratory workers, respiratory therapists and many other specialists under this general heading are in constant demand.

Dietitians—numerous opportunities exist for administrative dietitians, clinical dietitians, research dietitians, dietetic educators, and others.

Business specialists—competent graduates are needed to work in administration, purchasing, business and patient accounts, personnel, payroll, and other business entities.

Other opportunities include medical record administrators, pharmacists, occupational therapists, chaplains, and office secretaries, to name a few.

If you see yourself a part of the Church's healthcare team—soon or sometime in the future—now is a good time to let your interests be known. You can get further information on any medical field simply by addressing your requests to:
